

SKY'S THE LIMIT

INTERIOR DESIGN FIRM, SKY CREATION, has garnered numerous industry accolades since its inception in 2008. For a newly seasoned enterprise, the list is admirable: ISO 9001, ISO 14001, OHSAS 18001, Casetrust and Singapore Brand, to name a few. From quality control and environmental/health safety standards, to fair trading and transparency to consumers, it's evident the company places strong emphasis on operational excellence.

This is thanks to the skilled stewardship and visionary foresight of the firm's founder and Executive Director, Sky Tan, who brings a wealth of experience to the studio owing to his decade-long tenure in the interior design industry.

"We are one of the few companies in Singapore to receive this many accreditations. This year, we are aiming for the Singapore Quality Class and Singapore Promising Brand certifications," says Tan, referring to the certification for overall business excellence standard and the award given to small and medium enterprises in recognition of their brand promotion efforts.

Together with wife Angel Ong, the firm's Design Director, and a staff of 50, Tan operates a full suite of services for residential and commercial clients, including interior design consultation, space planning, design concept and development, project management, turnkey projects, additions and alterations, residential and commercial renovations, as well as kitchen and bathroom design planning.

To streamline the process by which the design team sources for fittings used in each project, the firm also brings in a comprehensive range of bathroom wares, lighting products as well as fabric and upholstery solutions under the labels Acqua, Luce and Tissus respectively. These products, housed in the company's 1,500 sq ft showroom, make it a one-stop destination for both its designers and clients.

To maintain strict quality control, Sky Creation even has its own in-house carpentry workshop, producing cabinets, wardrobes, shelves and other built-in furniture. Kitchen cabinets, for instance, are produced under the in-house label, Himmel Küche, and are renowned for their modern, superbly functional designs.

Himmel Küche was recently awarded a Singapore Green Label for its use of sustainable materials, a sure sign of the company's commitment to eco-consciousness. "We are an environmentally friendly company that is recognised by many green bodies in Singapore," says Tan. Indeed, Sky Creation is a member of the Singapore Green Building Council; this year, the firm hopes to achieve the prestigious Building and Construction Authority (BCA) Green Mark accreditation.

Tan's quest for industry standards is matched only by his relentless pursuit of perfection. Not surprisingly, expansion plans are in the pipeline – a Shanghai branch is being rolled out this month, followed by offices in Beijing and Shenyang soon after. Closer to home, a branch in Johor Bahru will start operations in May, while another one in Kuala Lumpur is set to open in late 2011. Beyond Malaysia and China, who knows where opportunities will arise next. After all, as is the company philosophy, there are "No boundaries. No limits".
